Sandra Carroll

Vice-Dean, Faculty of Health Sciences, and Executive Director, School of Nursing

Dear Award Recipients,

On behalf of all McMaster School of Nursing faculty and staff, I extend my heartfelt congratulations to each of you for your remarkable academic accomplishments during the 2022-2023 academic year. Your dedication and commitment to excellence has not only elevated your own educational journey but also left a lasting impact on the School of Nursing.

As outstanding undergraduate students and members of our nursing community, you have exemplified the highest standards of achievement. Faculty members take immense pride in celebrating this special occasion with you.

We recognize that many of these awards would not be possible without the generous support of benefactors and donors who believe in your potential. Their contributions to McMaster University and the Colleges have paved the way for your success, and we express our heartfelt gratitude for their unwavering commitment.

As representatives of McMaster University, the McMaster-Mohawk-Conestoga BScN consortium, and the BScN Nursing faculty and staff, I congratulate you once again. May your academic and professional paths continue to be filled with growth, learning, and bright prospects.

Warm regards,

Sandra Carroll

On behalf of the BScN Undergraduate Awards Committee, we would like to congratulate all the award winners on their achievements during the 2022-2023 academic year. Your achievements while completing a demanding BScN program are inspiring.

We also acknowledge that these awards would not be possible without the support of our donors, faculty, and everyone who supported students along their journey. Scholarships, bursaries and awards help ensure students focus on their academic careers rather than their financial burdens. They are also a tangible reminder that others share their belief in the importance of higher education. We are grateful for all of those who have made these awards possible.

To learn more about the awards at each of our sites, please visit the awards and scholarship offices websites.
